SECTION 2: BACKGROUND, PURPOSE, AND SCOPE OF WORK

2.1 Background and/or Purpose of this Bid

Since inception approximately 20 years ago, Airports Company South Africa Limited (ACSA) has transformed into a focused, profitable, and commercial enterprise that is market-driven and customer service oriented.

ACSA is mandated by national government to run, manage, and develop airports.

ACSA has a role to play in contributing towards South African's economic recovery and growth plan post the pandemic. ACSA can achieve this catalyst role through the monetization of property, ensuring the increase of its commercial business and revenue stream opportunities.

ACSA owns over 1000 hectares of undeveloped land parcels which could be commercialized, some of which are within the General Aviation (GA) area. The General Aviation refers to all aviation activity that does not involve scheduled or commercial airlines or military categories.

Presently, ~50% of all aircraft movements in the South African are non-commercial flights, of which ACSA handles less than 20% of the total non-commercial.

The GA strategy strongly encourages that ACSA supports the growth of the GA business. The establishment of the FBO will be determined by the readiness of the business environment and/or identification of a willing and able Operator/Investor. Opportunities available within the GA area for FBOs have been identified for all airports. There are some Airports that readily lend themselves to intensified GA activities by virtue of infrastructure and/or access and/or enabled land.

An analysis of the FBO opportunities available across the 9 airports network was conducted, with a focus on the opportunity readiness for implementation, ease of implementation, etc.
